FILLED FULL OF SHOT

Painful Injuries Sustained
by Youthful Hunter
Near Casky.

HAT BLOWN FROM HEAD.

Companion Mistook Foot For Squirrel and Fired at Object.

Tom Dillman, son of Mr. J. H. Dillman, of the Casky neighborhood was shot and painfully wounded by Emmett Haydon, son of Mr. Leslie Haydon, of this city, last Thursday.

The youths were hunting in the woods near Mr. Dillman's residence and became separated. Young Dillman saw a squirrel and lay down in an effort to get a shot. His companion, seeing one of his feet move, and mistaking it for a squirrel, fired at the object. He missed the foot, but the load of shot lodged in young Dillman's legs and back. While his injuries are of a very painful nature, he is not seriously hurt, though he had a very close call, his hat being torn from his head by the charge and several shot passing through his that band.

Dr. Austin Bell was called and rendered the necessary surgical aid. About two dozen shot were picked from the wounds and several, which were deeply imbedded, were left in the flesh.

OPERATOR KILLED

While Substituting For His Friend Sunday.

A car on a north-bound Louisville and Nashville freight train jumped the track at Mannington, on the Christian and Hopkins county line, Sunday afternoon, taking four other cars and three oil tanks with it. One of the cars crashed into the block station, instantly killing Fred Long, of Mannington, who was substituting for the regular operator, Charles Francis, for a few minutes. Long's body was horribly mutilated.

The box cars were empty, but the tanks were filled with oil and turpentine, which caught fire, and all of the train which could not be moved was consumed. Traffic was delayed for about ten hours, and the wreck is considered one of the worst ever known on the Henderson division.

QUIET WEDDING.

Karl Dietrich, of Pennsylvania, Claims a Kentucky Girl For His Own.

In the calm of a summer afternoon at the home of Mr. Davis Garnett, a brother of the bride, at Pembroke, the destinies of Karl L. Dietrich and Miss Mollie Garnett were united last Saturday. The officiating clergyman was Rev. W. E. Mitchell, who, in a short but beautiful ceremony, and in the presence of but a few relatives of the groom and bride, united the lives of the young couple who have loved each other from childhood.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich drove to the city to remain until Monday with the parents of the groom, Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Dietrich. Mr. Dietrich left Monday morning for Berwick, Pa., where he will arrange for taking his bride in a short time. He has been with the Baldwin Locomotive Works, of Philadelphia, for several years and has, by his intelligence and industry, won advancement after advancement in construction work. Before coming back to Kentucky for his bride he contracted to go into the service of a large steel concern at Berwick.

The marriage of the young couple was really no surprise to their friends, though it may have occurred a little sooner than was expected. Everybody wishes for them a happy future.

ALL SMOKE.

East Seventh Street Residence Had Many Sunday Callers.

A fire alarm was turned in from the residence of Mr. Chas. F. Jarrett, 743 East Seventh street Sunday morning just as people had started to church.

By some unknown means a box of clothing in the pantry adjoining the parlor had caught on fire, and though not burning rapidly the rooms on the first floor were filled with smoke. The fire department did not use any water, and threw the box and burning contents out doors. The only damage sustained was the probable loss of garments that were in the box.

Mr. Jarrett's residence is one of the best in the city and had the discovery of the fire been a few minutes later, after Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett had started to church, there would doubtless have been a destructive fire.

Nashville a Poultry Center.

THOROUGHbred chickens and country produce probably do not sound very well together, yet when it is remembered that country produce means chickens and eggs the two cannot be very well separated, especially in view of the fact that Nashville and the surrounding territory stand up around the top in both lines.

In the thoroughbred line, what some call fancy stock, Nashville has made wonderful strides in the past few years, but those who have kept up with what is going on believe that even greater progress will be made within the next four or five years.

Mr. Theo. Hewes, editor of the Inland Poultry Journal, a member of the Executive Board of the American Poultry Association, and one of the leading judges of poultry in America, after a visit to Nashville and Tennessee, said that this section was destined, he believed, to be the leading thoroughbred poultry centre of the United States—not one of the leaders but the leader. He said he had not known before visiting here just the character of the products raised and the climate of this section, but that both were so well adapted to poultry culture, that Tennessee could, and would naturally take the lead.

There has really been a wonderful increase in interest in the thoroughbred stock within the past few years, more particularly within the past 2 years, or since the big State Poultry Show held at the Hippodrome eighteen months ago. The State Fair Show very greatly increased the interest, and finally resulted in the Nashville show bringing together one of the best exhibits of chickens ever seen in America and easily the best the South has ever had. There are only three or four of the larger cities in the country that have had better exhibits. The collection was not only a large one, but the class of birds shown was extraordinary. Birds that had easily taken firsts and seconds at smaller shows were doing well to get fourth and fifth place at the Nashville show.

Great credit is given Mr. John A. Murkin, Jr., in working up all three of these shows. The paper Mr. Murkin publishes, the Southern Poultry Magazine, is also largely responsible for working and keeping up interest in poultry.

PRODUCE BUSINESS.

What has been done in the thoroughbred line is directly reflected in the produce business. Men who have bought and sold chickens and eggs for years state that they now get a much better class of chickens than the formerly did. They still get scrub stock mostly, but the good breeds have become so numerous that they have in mixing with the common stock increased the general size and quality of chickens. The poultrymen also get a great deal of stock, having many of the appearances of thoroughbreds, to be killed or shipped away at so much per pound.

The next show is already booked, and it will be held by the Tennessee State Fair. It has not yet been arranged in detail, but all indications are that it will be one of the best, if not the best, poultry show ever held in the South. It was a tremendous success last fall, but preliminary preparations this year are even on a larger scale.

The increased interest in the thoroughbreds has been shown by the substantial results that have followed. There were three or four years ago only about a half dozen really large poultry yards operated in Nashville, and probably about twenty-five smaller plants. There are now a dozen or more big establishments and seventy-five or one hundred smaller establishments. This takes into account only those who are engaged in the business for both the pleasure there is in it and do not expect to make any money out of it, are counted, the numbers are much larger, and the increase over four or five years ago is still more marked. A few years ago there were probably not over fifty chicken raisers in and around Nashville who had their chickens penned in and were mating them with some care and endeavoring to raise the highest class of birds. Now there are two hundred—some think three hundred—who are raising chickens in pens, and even a larger number who have thoroughbred chickens running loose on their places instead of common stock. While these chickens are not penned they in most cases are not allowed to mix with other chickens.

SMALL FANCIERS.

There are a great many of these small fanciers, both with and without pens, who have some very fine birds, fowls that would doubtless do well at shows, but for some reason the small breeders seem afraid to exhibit. There would doubtless be a few surprises in some of the awards if all of these breeders could be induced to show their best birds.

In the produce line—any kind of old chicken or egg, at so much per pound or dozen—Nashville has not made the progress she has in thoroughbred or fancy lines, but has nevertheless held her own. This has been done notwithstanding the fact that in recent years the practice of shipping from small towns direct to New York or other large markets has been followed. The town of Gallatin, about thirty miles away, can be taken as an example. In years past that town shipped every surplus chicken or egg it had for sale to Nashville, and the produce was shipped from Nashville by local dealers to New York or other points. Now but few chickens or eggs come from that town to Nashville, but are shipped direct North or East.

Nashville, however, can claim to have a share in the business, as Nashville houses have buyers there and the financial end of the business is handled through Nashville. This is more true of smaller towns than quite so conveniently located with reference to railroad facilities as Gallatin. One Nashville house, for instance, has buying agents at fifteen different towns around Nashville. When these men can get up a full carload of stuff, and they nearly always manage to do so, they ship direct, but if, for some reason, they happen to fail short, what they have is sent to Nashville. The buyers keep in very close touch with Nashville, getting quotations from here at least once a day, and at times oftener. It is really Nashville business.

VOLUME OF BUSINESS.

Not counting business handled by Nashville houses in other towns, this city is nevertheless handling more produce now than ever before in its history. It is very conservatively estimated that this business, the portion handled here strictly, amounts to $2,500,000 to $3,000,000 annually. One dealer placed the figure at $4,000,000 or more. At any rate it is a tremendous business. The amount of business done in Nashville means about two carloads of poultry and three carloads of eggs shipped out of here every day in the year, and that very rapidly adds up a large total in the business transacted.

Within the past three years one Nashville firm has worked up an export trade for eggs with Cuba and other local firms have since fallen in line, until now Nashville has become the second largest Cuban exporter of eggs in the United States—Nashville Banner.

A "Freak" Hen

A neighbor here in Abington, a Mr. Warren, (who lives just across the street from Rev. Mr. Hall, April number), has a "freak" hen that is the oddest thing in the hen line that we have ever seen. She is a Barred Rock hen, of the "Farmers' Barred Rocks" type, and a very good hen in shape and color; that is—she was all right in color, originally.

When about a year old, in the spring a year ago, white feathers began to show in the neck plumage, a white feather appearing here and there. Gradually the white feathers extended over the body, until, in the course of a few months, she was white all over. She looked like a White Plymouth Rock, and no one could have told, or would have guessed that she had ever been anything else but white; examination showed no barred feathers, or "ticked" feathers anywhere, and she was a White Rock.

This spring she has started back again, and is gradually changing back to barred plumage. This was first noticed four or five weeks ago, when barred feathers began to show a little here and there about the neck; these have been extending over the body, one coming out here and another there, until she is now about half and half. Evidently she has repeated of her lapse from barred plumage and is returning to her own class.

It seems funny, though, that such a change should have come about, both times in early spring; if it had been in the fall at the usual time of the molt, less would have been thought of it. Apparently she went through a molt in the early spring, commencing when she was just about a year old, and it is confidently believed she did not molt again in the fall; being the only white hen on the place, it would have been noticed probably, if she had molted in the fall, and now she is going through another early spring molt and changing back to her original color.

We think this is the oddest "freak" in the hen line that we have ever seen.—A. F. Hunter in A. P. Advocate.

Infertile Eggs.

Lack of fertility in eggs may be due to overfeeding (causing the hens to become too fat), under feeding (failing to provide fertilized germ), lack of exercise, lack of green food, hereditary weakness in the foundation stock, a diseased condition of the male or female, on a weakness resulting from some former diseased condition. To secure fertile eggs, therefore, the foundation stock must be strong and vigorous, provision must be made for ample exercise, over fatness must be reduced in weight by a careful system of feeding, animal food and green food must be provided and diseased birds or those that have recently recovered from some disease must be removed from the flock.

If you wish fertile eggs, it is a good plan to have a reserve supply of males. Some females may not receive the attention of one male, but they will of another. By shifting the males two or three times a week, this difficulty is overcome.—Cal. P. Journal.

Big Money in Hens.

Almost every issue of the daily press tells of success attained by some one in the poultry business in this section of this country or of some large company preparing to go into the poultry business on a large scale. There is no better place on the globe for the successful raising of poultry than the South.

Frank P. McCutcheon, a farmer living near Cornsboro, states that since January, 1906, from eight turkeys he has realized $159.75 an average of $20 per hen. From 22 chickens he has sold in poultry and eggs $185.65 in the same time. Of course his turkeys and chickens were standard bred, and he urges everybody to abandon "scrub stock" and substitute the pure-bred.

Any farmer can make money just as this one is doing if he will only go about it in an intelligent way.—Ty-

State Fair Poultry Show.

One of the features of the State Fair this fall will be the poultry department. The premiums this year have been considerably increased in nearly all the classes and a large and attractive list of specials will be offered. A number of the big breeders of the North are coming and the exhibit promises to be one of special interest. The exhibits from Tennessee will be very strong. Several nice features will be introduced this year. A liberal premium list has been posted for pigeons and pet stock and this will be made a feature of the show. The best poultry and pigeon judges will be employed and every detail will be looked after. The building will be greatly improved and up-to-date improvements will be installed for the care and comfort of the birds.—Nashville American.

Feeding Oats.

Oats are one of the best all-round feeds there is for chickens. We feed our birds more oats than any other one grain, especially in the summer when one wants a feed that is not heating to the birds. Oats are practically non-fattening and all go to build up bone and muscle. There is a general complaint this spring about the infertility of eggs, but we are glad to say that we have not been troubled by complaints of this kind from our customers this season. Although we have had a large egg trade the average fertility has been remarkably high and the chicks when hatched are strong and lively. We attribute this to the feeding of oats and therefore will continue to use them as our main whole grain feed.—Nevin Poultry Yards, Charlotte, N. C.

The Record in Hopkinsville Is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Hopkinsville citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

J. W. Pritchett, 752 E. Seventh Street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "Four years ago Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at L. A. Johnson & Co's. Drug store brought me such great relief that I was glad to tell the people of Hopkinsville my experience with the remedy. Before using them, pains existed through my kidneys and in the back, which caused me a great deal of annoyance. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised so highly that I concluded to try them. They proved to be an excellent remedy, relieving me of the aching in my back and helping me in other ways. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am sure if people who have kidney trouble will use them according to directions they will be satisfied with the results obtained."

For sale at all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doans—and take no other.

Grain and Animal Food.

It is a mistake to make grain the principal food for laying hens. Grain is well enough as food for market fowls but the laying hen demands something more. The egg itself is animal food, and although it can be produced from grain, yet the hen is required, in order to be profitable, to produce an egg each day, or as near that as possible, and her work must not be interrupted from lack of the necessary nutriment. Meat fills a want that cannot easily be supplied from any other source when the hens are laying regularly.—Nashville American.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

SKILLFUL "TRUST BUSTER"

Cordeno Arnold Severance, the government attorney who has unearthed such valuable evidence in the Harriman railroad deals that the department of justice has resolved to start criminal suits, is a young western attorney who had achieved an enviable reputation as a corporation lawyer when he enlisted with the government forces. Mr. Severance was born and raised in Minnesota and has held a number of offices, including that of state senator.

Mr. Severance's law business extends all over the country, from Massachusetts to California. He has been counsel for various railroads in the northwest, also for a number of Chicago packers, for the United States Steel corporation, and numerous other business industries. He was employed by the Interstate commerce commission in the recent investigation into the Harriman railways. In connection with latter proceeding he took testimony in New York, Chicago, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and ably argued the matter in Washington, and his skillful handling of the last-mentioned investigation was especially commended.

As a partner of United States Attorney Frank B. Kellogg, Mr. Severance was associated with him in all the important trust investigations in which that lawyer figured so successfully, notably the Western Paper trust and the workings of the Standard Oil company.

Mr. Severance is immune from the common disease of running for office. He delights in social intercourse and his genial disposition has won him a prominent place in leading clubs of Minnesota, Duluth, Chicago, New York and Brooklyn. Whether telling a humorous story or pursuing an octopus, Mr. Severance enters into the spirit of the thing with all the vim and enthusiasm that even strenuous President Roosevelt could ask.

SURGEON GENERAL RIXEY

Presley Marion Rixey, surgeon general of the United States navy, who attended the late Mrs. McKinley in Canton, O., has had official care of the health of the presidents of the United States for the past nine years. He accompanied President McKinley on his fatal trip to the Pan-American exposition and was with him when he died.

Dr. Rixey was one of the most skillful, experienced and widely traveled surgeons of the navy when William McKinley became president. He was made a White House physician and took charge of Mrs. McKinley, who had been in precarious health for years.

The engaging manners of the Virginian and the success which attended his care of Mrs. McKinley attracted the president to him. The two became fast friends. One of the last official acts of Mr. McKinley before he was struck down by the assassin's bullet, was to arrange for Dr. Rixey's promotion to the position of surgeon general of the navy.

One of President Roosevelt's first acts on taking office was to carry out the dead president's wish. Dr. Rixey was made surgeon general with the rank of rear admiral.

Many honors have come to Dr. Rixey in the course of his career, one of the most prized being a decoration from King Alfonso XIII. of Spain for his valuable services rendered to officers and men of the Spanish fleet following an explosion on that vessel.

Rather tall and of courtly bearing, and possessing a wholesome geniality that never fails to make friends wherever he goes, Dr. Rixey is a general favorite in all circles of official Washington.

HAD NO OPPOSITION

To run for office and be elected without opposition is an unusual thing in American politics. This rare distinction has befallen D. R. Anthony, Jr., who was nominated for congress by the Republicans of the First district of Kansas to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Congressman Curtis to the United States senate.

Mr. Anthony received a remarkable political endorsement in that he was unanimously nominated by his own party, and the Democrats of the district met and resolved to make no nomination against him.

The new congressman is editor of the Leavenworth Daily Times, and is a son of the late Col. D. R. Anthony, one of the pioneers and historical characters of Kansas' struggle to be a free state. He is also a nephew of the late Susan B. Anthony, and a brother-in-law of Capt. Koehler, the army officer who recently had a clash with Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood in the Philippines.

As showing the trend of politics in the western states, Mr. Anthony's platform calls for revision of unfair tariff schedules by the friends of the protective principle, stands for government control of the railroads as advocated by President Roosevelt, and declares for the curbing of criminal trusts and monopolies.

EASY GOING MONARCH

King Carlos of Portugal is the happiest, most easy-going and pleasure-loving ruler in Europe. The only cloud upon his horizon has been a parliament which persisted in trying to make laws and run the country. Life was not worth living, decided the jolly monarch, with such a post always on hand, so he sent the lawmakers home and proclaimed that he would run the country alone for three years.

The private life of Portugal's monarch is rather interesting, because it is more like that of a private gentleman than the daily round of a sovereign. As he rises at five in the morning, he contrives to get all his work done before mid-day, then five days of the six he gives over to the afternoon and evening to his own amusement and sport. He has explored every corner of his kingdom in his motor car, and a short time since, when driving through some out-of-the-way place, he had rather an amusing experience. Arriving at a small town, he found a crowd waiting, but no one recognized him. In fact, the chief point of interest at that moment was an old woman, who had had her basket of eggs stolen by those who jostled her. The king, with his usual good nature, approached and asked what was the matter. "They say the king is coming through here, so these idiots are waiting to see him. One cannot even do one's daily labor, with this crowd watching for a fat lazy fellow, who does no work and spends his time in eating."

The king laughed, presented her with a coin to pay for the eggs, and to "remember the fat lazy fellow by," and a moment more the royal car had vanished in a whirl of dust before anyone knew it had arrived—save one dumb-struck peasant woman.

New Bound-Proof Books.

Various methods of making sound-proof building bricks or plates are noticed by German authorities. The chief constituent is calcined gypsum, and it appears that in the simplest process the mass is filled with fine pores by adding a small proportion of such substances as the bicarbonates of the alkalis, the chemical action thus set up causing a slow and steady evolution of carbonic acid gas as the gypsum sets and hardens. Though the plates become somewhat lighter their strength is retained. The porous texture makes the material a good nonconductor of sound, there is no loss of durability, and the plates can be fastened by nailing. The sound deadening effect can be increased by adding sawdust, coke dust or ashes.

The pulp—such as a mixture by weight of 20 parts of sawdust, 40 of gypsum, 40 of water and one of sodium bicarbonate—is poured into moulds and can be left to harden without further attention.

BABY WASTED TO MERE SKELETON

With Terrible Sores on Face and Body—Hands Tied to Stop Scratching and Tearing at Flesh—But

CURE BY CUTICURA COMPLETE AND SPEEDY

"My little son, when about a year and a half old began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So great was her faith in it that she gave me a small piece of Cuticura Soap to try and a little Cuticura Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little. I sent to the drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any more of any kind since. He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D., No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 22, 1905."

ITCHING PIMPLES

"I had suffered with itching pimples for years. At last a friend told me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I did so and in three weeks my face was entirely cured. I am so pleased with Cuticura because it will recommend them to other sufferers. Mrs. Florence Davenport, R. F. D., No. 2, Auburn, Neb., Aug. 29, 1904."

LARGE CROWD

Attended Farewell Services at First Baptist Church.

The large audience room and S. S. room of the First Baptist Church was filled last Sunday night, the occasion being a union service arranged by the Ministerial Association of the city to bid farewell to Dr. J. E. Fogartie, who has served the Ninth Street Presbyterian Church for the past three years.

After singing an appropriate hymn a fervent prayer was offered up by Dr. Jenkins, in which he invoked the richest blessings upon Dr. Fogartie and his family and increased usefulness in the new field into which the pastor goes as well as a blessing upon the local pastors who are losing so powerful a helper in their church work. Dr. H. D. Smith read as the evening lesson the 17th Chapter of St. John. Misses Rowena Wall and Catherine Elgin sang most sweetly, "Just as I am."

The retiring pastor preached the sermon of the evening, taking as his text the 20th and 21st verses of the 17th Chapter of John. He dwelt at length on the Unity of God's People and the assured success of God's Ministers in winning the world for Christ, as they speak the words of God, to a lost world, even as Christ spoke the words of the 17th Chapter of John to his Disciples on the night before he left them. The union of God's people is indissoluble just as is the union of the Father and the Son.

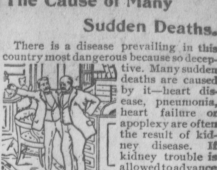

The sermon has been pronounced one of the deepest and most powerful of the learned divine's efforts. The concluding remarks in which Dr. Fogartie spoke of his love for the ministers with whom he has mingled and labored, were pathetic to such an extent that they evidenced his attachment to his brothers in the ministry.

After the sermon Rev. E. H. Bull, Secretary of the Ministerial Association, read the resolutions adopted by that body at its last meeting.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the name, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Local Leaflets

Hayrides are becoming fashionable again, put automobile parties are growing in popularity.

Here's consolation for the man with no teeth: Dr. H. W. Wiley, one of the highest authorities in the United States, says that meat is more healthful if not masticated—the less it is chewed the better.

Mr. Garnett's new three-story building on Main street is to be completed by December 1st. It is to be almost a replica of the corner building.

With Georgia watermelons and cantaloupes, home-grown peaches, raspberries and dewberries on the market and apples green enough to produce cramps, nobody can complain of having nothing to eat—it has the wherewith to buy.

Now that nearly every store on Main street is closed at 7 o'clock, one would expect that our chief thoroughfare would look lonesome in the electric lights. But it is not so. There are as many people on the streets as ever, but they are out for recreation.

About 50 members of Co. D will go to Jamestown July 8th and remain seven days in camp. The boys are already saving up their change and laying plans for the time of their lives.

Don't forget what this paper told you a few weeks ago about laying in your winter coal. A shortage of cars has already been predicted, and a shortage of cars means a shortage of coal and higher prices.

Hay cutting was lively all over the county last week but the Maud Mullers didn't show up at all. In these days when young women don't mind having their pretty faces and plump arms tanned by the sun, why don't they get a craze for athletics and help "have the hay while the sun shines?"

Because all the former (we liked to have said old) teachers of the public schools were elected for the coming term, it is no sign that many of them are not going to marry. An incredulous public is rather prone to believe that they are putting up a bluff. The bluff has been worked two or three times in succession, and why not again?

The new crop of wheat began coming in the latter part of last week. The mills are now ready for grinding and farmers will have plenty of money. Business of all kinds will "pick up" considerably, though the usual dull times that generally precedes the delivery of the wheat crop has been unknown this year.

The decreased attendance at night services at the different churches, as hot weather comes on, has already become noticeable. How to get the people out at night is one of the unsolvable problems that pastors have to contend with every year.

OFFERS TO DIE.

Sure He Will Go to Heaven, But Brother May Not.

Montgomery, Ala., June 27.—John Beeman, a negro preacher, has made application of the jailer to be allowed to die on the gallows for his brother, David Beeman, the date of execution being July 26. The preacher says he will go to heaven and his brother, being a bad man, might not. His sacrifice would have a tendency to convert his brother and both would thus get to heaven. The offer of the negro has caused a wave of sympathy for him and the condemned man and a petition is being circulated asking the governor to commute the sentence.

Dead at 65.

Algonie Edwards, who had been an inmate of the Western Asylum for last Saturday morning, of the infirmities of old age. His remains were sent to Schree for burial. He was 65 years old.

FOURTH OF JULY

Thursday will be the 131st anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, a national holiday. The postoffice and all of the banks will close and there will be only partial delivery of the mails.

Superintendent Stephens, of the Western Asylum, is arranging to give the patients the usual outing in the lawn of the asylum, with a barbecue for the entire population, and a number of invited guests. These annual occasions have become quite a feature and there will be music by a good band and perhaps some speeches in the afternoon. Those who receive invitations may consider themselves fortunate, for the occasion is always an enjoyable one to outsiders as well as to the patients.

HOGS DYING.

A Strange Disease Robbing Farmers of Meat for Coming Winter.

Farmers are certainly in bad lines this year. Crop conditions were never more unfavorable and now reports are still more discouraging for the people on farms.

A strange disease has broken out among the hogs in some sections of the county and the rooters are dying by hundreds.

Following is a list of losses already sustained by farmers in the vicinity of Pee Dee: R. Viers has lost 11; R. S. Lindsay 70; John Ostee 216; A. S. Ladd, Finis Luttrell and Eliza Wiggins, of the same neighborhood have also lost heavily.

The above farmers all live within about a mile of each other. George Gee and a number of others of the Bennettstown neighborhood, have also lost heavily.

The disease is different from anything that has ever attacked hogs and affects them in different ways. Some of them continue to eat while others refuse everything. Again they lose the use of their legs altogether, sometimes the hogs swelling to two or three times the natural size. Some die in a short time after being attacked, while others live several hours and eat freely until they die. So far all experiments have failed to furnish a remedy.

It is not in the southern portion of the county only that the ravages of the disease have been reported, and if it spreads all over the county meat is apt to become a luxury which farmers never winter.

HERNDON NOTES.

Numerous Items Sent in From South Christian.

NEW DEPOT

At Princeton Is Open For Business.

The new $50,000 Illinois Central station at Princeton, Ky., was opened at noon on Thursday, and is now being used for passengers, traffic and transportations. The first train to back in was that of the Boosters from Nashville. The new building is a two-story brick with stone trimmings. The lower floor is now being used for ticket offices and waiting rooms, the second floor not being occupied as yet. It will later be used by the offices of the Illinois Central road, and will be the hub to all business of the Nashville, New Orleans and Louisville divisions.

THE SECRET OUT.

proper strength. The exact working formula for making these medicines cost Dr. Pierce and his collaborating Chemists and Pharmacists many years of study and experiments, but as perfected they produce almost perfect results in the treatment of all the active, medicinal principles residing in the ingredients employed, and this, too, in such form and combination as to keep unchanged in any climate, thus the use of alcohol is entirely avoided.

PROOF POSITIVE.

Without solicitation, Mrs. H. Harrison, of 112 East 21 Street, Sioux City, Iowa, writes as follows:

"I suffered for more than seven years with a very complicated form of female trouble accompanied with nervous prostration, and after consulting with the best medical authorities, and after trying every remedy, I was informed that I would be cured by Dr. R. V. Pierce's medicines, and believing that there must be a cure for almost every ailment, I determined to make one more effort. I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he will never forget his kindly advice, telling me to follow his instructions faithfully and not to submit to an operation. I commenced to improve after six weeks' treatment, and in five months my improvement was so noticeable to friends that they began to inquire about my method of recovery. I was pleased to tell them of the wonderful cures that I had obtained by Dr. Pierce's medicines, and as so many ladies applied to me for information, I decided to tell them the benefits of my experience, so I told them of the 'Favorite Prescription' for women and the equally popular 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Hereafter every bottle of these medicines leaving the great Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., will bear upon it a full list of all the ingredients entering into the compound. Both are made entirely from native roots of rare medicinal value. The ingredients of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' being Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Mandrake root and Bloodroot. The 'Favorite Prescription' is prepared in a similar manner, from Blue Cohosh root, Lady's Slipper root, Unicorn root, Golden Seal root and Hatterdock root, these ingredients being macerated for a long time at a rather high temperature in a menstruum composed of essentially pure glycerine, of

Dr. Pierce's Good temper is largely a matter of good health, and good health is largely a matter of healthy activity of the bowels. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, they are safe, pure and sure, and once taken do not have to be taken again. One little 'Pellet' is a gentle laxative, and two or three a mild cathartic. They never hurt the stomach, gripes, or any disorders.
